We would like to thank each one form Central Baptist Church who took part in making the Haunted House a big success on Monday night. We thank each one who came and enjoyed in the fun with us. A special thanks to each member of the County Line Hunting Club for the use of their building.

Training class cited

The Distributive Education Department is presenting a Sales Effectiveness Training Class to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 16 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. in Room 305 of the Appomattox County High School.

This new class was developed by Dr. Barry L. Reece at Virginia Tech. S.E.T. focuses on selling practices and procedures which have the greatest potential for improving your sales productivity. All of the concepts presented in this course have been field tested in real world selling situations.

To register for this class, please call Mr. R. B. Carter at 352-8251 or Mr. John McHale at 352-5317. Advance registration will prevent unnecessary cancellation of this class.

RAYMOND DICKERSON, OWNER OF PAMPLIN PIPE FACTORY and Kiln and Chimney stands beside recently erected sign on 460 East of Pamplin referring to the Kiln and Chimney. "We want to thank the Virginia Department of Highways and all others who were instrumental in getting the sign erected," said Dickerson. The erection of the sign is a prelude to applying for a Federal grant to restore the kiln, according to Dickerson. The Kiln is open year round for visitors.

County Line news

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Jordan and son, Zack , of Charlotte, N.C., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lankford Torrence.

Bloodmobile visit cited

Editor:

The bloodmobile visit of Oct. 18 again fell short of our 110 goal. We had a total of 102 presented with 5 deferrals making a net collection of 97 units. The blood supply is so short the Red Cross was most happy that we were able to collect this amount. The donors were coming in so slow at first we were worried that we were not going to get even close to our quota. Many thanks to all those who were generous participants in this worthwhile program.

We had a big number who received pins at this visit. Proof again that once you start donating you become a regular and form this very good habit. A total of 16 pins were given: We even had to order a pin for one donor as he had reached the 13-gal. mark and we did not have a pin for a 13 unit donor. Congratulations! to Raymond H. Turner. I will try to have a 14 unit pin ready for you when you complete another gallon. Mr. William A. Hunter was our next largest donor, he received his 10 gallon pin. Johnny B. Gallier was given a 6 gal. pin. Five gallon pins were awarded: Laura E. Martin, Ben D. Wheeler, Evelyn T. Crake, and Harry H. Hamlett. Four gallon pins went to: Horace Steven Baker and Robert A. Fitzgerald. Warren B. Page and Linda W. Rahf were recipients of 2 gallon pins. Five donors reached the one gallon mark; Charity Saulisbury, Margie C. Covington, Allen L. Harris, Mary K. Hudson and Walter Neil Conner.

First time donors were Vaneesa Smith, Debra Honaker, Susan Fisher, Jeanette Martin, Rebecca Doss and Robin Bennett. I hope this is the beginning of many donations for each of you.

Our canteen was hosted by the SPOUT SPRING BAPTIST CHURCH. Just two ladies came, Mrs. Dot Reynolds and Mrs. Iva Pillow, and we never had a canteen run more smoothly. They served sandwiches along with the cookies and drinks. Pepsi-Cola Bottling donated the drinks Food World and Travelers Inn made other contributions. Thanks, to all of these and to the many volunteers who gave of their time. A special thanks to Liberty Baptist Church for their nice and spacious facilities.

Will you consider being a very special person? A blood donor.

Sincerely,
Alice C. Martin,
Chm. Blood Services

Halloween Carnival successful

Editor:

After a successful night at the Appomatox Primary School Halloween Carnival, I would like to take this time to say "Thank You" to all of the wonderful workers who donated many hours of their time to create this night. Their ideas, suggestions, and talents were combined to bring a night of entertainment for everyone to enjoy.

The Liberty Baptist Church group directed by Tony Wood, highlighted the evening with realism in The Haunted Mansion. The talents and prompts of Wayne Simpson were displayed as he gave his time to work with them. Mr. Sweets 4-H group were not to be outdone as they eagerly ushered thrill seekers into the Haunted House. The lines were long at both houses as this was a very popular item.

Shana Harvey's presentation of "Tomorrow" from the Broadway Musical, "Annie" delighted young children. Kent Hancock drew an anxious crowd as he gave a demonstration in Karate. Brett Marston was on hand to introduce the acts as he offered assistance in Costume Judging. The Young Hearts who were our judges, did an excellent job with the difficult selections. There can only be one winner, its a hard choice with so many creative costumes. A special thank you to them for their efforts.

Everyone enjoyed the special appearance by Kermit The Frog and Miss Piggy and Raggedy Ann and Woodsey Owl. A delight to children were prizes they could pick from the Annie and Andy Pockets.

Mayor Ronnie Spiggle's voice echoed through the night as he encouraged ticket buyers for the raffles. His special charm added to the event as he auctioned left-over prizes at the end.

Helen Beaty's smile and sweet ways won the hearts of children as she told fortunes. We owe her a special "Thank You" as she appreciate their contribution to the Appomattox Primary School as the profit will be used for needed equipment.

Finally, I would like to thank the parents for the food basket donations; and the cakes and deserts they baked for the Cake Walk. I hope you all were present to see the children's smiling faces as they won. This was a night for the children and thanks to all of you it was a great success.

Sincerely,
Lauren C. Anderson

Education Week at AES

American Education Week will be observed Nov. 14 through Nov. 18 in Appomattox County Public Schools.

The Appomattox Elementary School has activities planned that will include students, parents, educators, and area citizens.

Through essay, poetry, or art work, students will demonstrate their thoughts concerning the theme "Being The Best At AES." Parents will have the opportunity to see the educational process in action through a special day for visiting the school. Activities designed to show appreciation for all staff members will be implemented throughout the week.

The school library will sponsor an opportunity for students to order books of their choice through a week long book fair.

The week's activities will be highlighted by a Friday afternoon awards assembly for the best "Being The Best At AES" poem, essay, and art project.

Class for women planned

Dr. Nancy K. Young, a licensed professional counselor, will be the instructor for the "Management for Women" class to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 15 at 7 p.m.

Enrollment is limited to 18 and advanced registration is required. To register, send $5.00 check made payable to Appomattox County High School to Mr. John McHale, Appomattox County High School, Appomattox, VA 24522 or phone 352-5317.
